HEAD GASKET

Head Gasket for Nissan A12/A14/A15

Wider compatibility!

2 types of bead structures are available to choose!

Compatible with various oil / water hole designs

Early A12 engine has an independent oil inlet port while late A12 engine supplies oil through a head bolt hole.

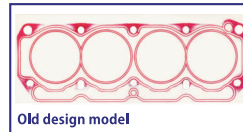

This product has one large, united oil port which makes it fits both early and late models, as well as for those early models with the late-model head swapped on.

Improved SUS301 material

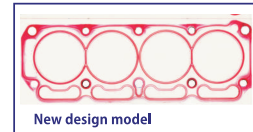

Made of flexible and strong SUS301.

Improved Bead Lines

The new and improved Bead Lines securely divides water lines and oil lines.

Standard upgrade model

【Opposing Bead Type】

Keeps the surface pressure evenly around the bores, water lines and oil lines.
Designed to withstand and long-last on modified Nissan-A engines typically run at high RPM and high load conditions.

Bore (Φ)	Thickness(mm)	P/N	JPY
79.0	0.8	1345790081	30,000
	1.0	1345790101

Competition-ready model

【Opposing Bead Stopper Type】

In addition to the Opposing Bead structure, this type is dual-beaded with the additional stopper beads around the bores. The highest surface pressure provides the securest sealing at the water / oil lines and most importantly at the bores.
The best choice ever for racing Nissan-A under extreme conditions.
